THE ADMIRALTY AND MARITIME LAW COMMITTEE of the American Bar Association
Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section

2017 ANNUAL LAW STUDENT WRITING COMPETITION

The Admiralty and Maritime Law Committee (AMLC) is pleased to announce its 2017 Annual Law Student Writing Competition Co-sponsored with Gard (North America), Inc.

Submissions should address one (1) recent development in any area of admiralty and maritime law.

The Competition winner will be eligible to receive (1) $1,000 cash prize; (2) $500 reimbursement for registration to attend either the TIPS Section Conference in Chicago or the ABA Annual Meeting in New York; (3) up to $750 in reimbursement of expenses to experience a day in marine insurance with Gard (North America), Inc. in New York; and (4) publication in a 2017 edition of the AMLC’s quarterly newsletter.

Submissions must be limited to no more than twenty (20) pages, double-spaced, 12-point Book Antiqua font, with footnotes and citations conforming to Bluebook standards.

Please submit all entries to Laura Beck Knoll, Esq. at knoll@chaffe.com not later than April 3, 2017.

As part of the ABA TIPS, the AMLC brings together attorneys for plaintiffs and defendants, in house counsel, and academics to facilitate the exchange of information and ideas, and to be a primary resource for education and knowledge about admiralty and maritime law issues. Gard is a leading shipowner-controlled provider of P&I, marine, and energy insurance products. The AMLC and Gard encourage your interest in admiralty and maritime law and welcome your participation in this Competition.

To learn more about the AMLC, or to become a member, visit: http://ambar.org/tipsadmiralty

To learn more about Gard, visit: www.gard.no

The competition is open to all current U.S. citizen law student and LLM candidates. Papers prepared for classes, journals, or other publications are welcome. Membership in the ABA, TIPS or the AMLC is not required for participation, though membership is free for all law students. If you are a member of the ABA, please include your ABA membership number with your submission. Please visit the AMLC website for the complete official rules.