Hello Students!

Excited to share that after a few conversations with University officials, you can now eat inside the building in the Carle Davis Room and Down Under.

A few important points:

- Masks may only be removed while sitting and eating or drinking inside of the Davis Room and the Down Under, and 6 feet of distance must be maintained at all times.
- Do not move or combine the furniture in the Davis Commons or Down Under — it is placed in a socially distanced manner. Do not exceed the maximum occupancies of the eating spaces — 13 people max in the Davis Commons, and 20 people max in the Down Under.
- Use the provided wipes to disinfect dining surfaces before and after use. Wash your hands or use hand sanitizer before and after eating.
- Please continue to use the tents to eat outdoors when possible. Eating outdoors is the safest option.
- Put your mask back on after eating! The biggest issue the University has seen with allowing eating inside academic buildings is that students take their mask off, and then leave it off once they are done eating. Please only remove your mask to actively eat or drink.

As a reminder, physical distancing must be maintained at all times on campus, including outdoors whenever possible. If it is not possible to keep 6 feet apart outdoors, wear your mask. Masks are always required indoors, unless you are sitting and eating or drinking in the Davis Room or Down Under. Avoid large gatherings. Don’t come to school if you feel sick or believe you have been exposed to someone with COVID-19. Complete your daily symptom tracker. The safety of our community depends on every individual following these precautions!
