

University of Richmond School of Law
2019 Summer Public Service Fellowship Program
Program Description and Guidelines for First Requestors

Program Description

Through the Summer Public Service Fellowship Program, the School of Law provides summer funding to students working in qualifying public sector positions. Qualifying public sector employment is unpaid, law-related work for a government agency, public interest organization, or the judiciary.

The purpose of the Fellowship Program is (1) to make it financially possible for students to gain valuable, but unpaid, law-related summer employment experience in the public sector, (2) to ensure students are prepared to maximize their summer experience for long-term professional gain, and (3) to provide opportunities for students to reflect on their summer experience and apply the insights they gain over the summer to their academic and career goals. To accomplish this purpose, Fellowship Program participants must satisfy pre- and post-employment requirements as a condition of receiving funding.

Employment Terms and Conditions

To qualify for a full Fellowship of $3500, you must work full time (at least 35 hours per week) for at least eight weeks between May and August 2019. If you do not work the full eight-week period, you will receive a pro rata share of the Fellowship. Specific employers may require an additional time commitment above the Fellowship requirement; however, any additional work commitment imposed by your employer will not increase the amount of the Fellowship available from the School of Law. You may combine up to two qualifying positions to meet the full-time, eight-week time commitment. Each student who secures qualifying public sector summer employment and completes the Application Process (outlined below) is guaranteed to receive one Fellowship during their academic career at the School of Law.

- You will be awarded only one Fellowship for summer 2019.
- A Fellowship may not be combined with any other funding available from the University of Richmond.
- You may not receive academic credit and a Fellowship for the same work.
- Once you have submitted an Application signed by your prospective supervisor, your Fellowship is not transferrable to another employer.
- If you do not return to the School of Law in fall 2019, you will be required to repay the Fellowship.
- Your total funding for summer 2019 may not exceed $5000, including the Fellowship, outside fellowships or grants and/or paid law-related employment beyond the eight-week Fellowship commitment. Should you receive grants or payment for law-related employment beyond the eight-week Fellowship commitment, you still may receive a Fellowship provided the other compensation plus the Fellowship do not exceed $5000. You will receive through the Fellowship program the difference between $5000 and the amount of other compensation up to a maximum of $3500. You must notify the CDO regarding any compensation you will earn from your qualifying employer, any outside fellowships or grants you have received for qualifying employment, and any other paid law-related summer employment you have obtained.
- Earnings from non-legal positions will not be deducted from your Fellowship.
- By accepting a Fellowship, you agree that your name, along with the name of your qualifying summer employer, may be released to Richmond Law students and graduates and used to promote the Fellowship Program.

Students planning to pursue post-graduate employment in the public sector may request a Fellowship for a subsequent summer (“Second Fellowship Request”) of qualifying employment that is consistent with their individual career goals. There is no guarantee that a Second Fellowship Request will be granted. Applications for Second Fellowship Requests will be evaluated by the Fellowship Committee, who will select the recipients. To be eligible to submit a Second Fellowship Request, you must fulfill all terms and conditions for your first Fellowship, including meeting your Post-Fellowship Obligations in a timely manner.

6. What did you learn about professionalism? In responding to this question, please include particular experiences that informed your understanding of professionalism and how they will impact the type of lawyer you hope to be.
7. What did you learn about yourself this summer and how will those insights inform the type of practice you hope to pursue?
8. If you discovered through your internship that the area or type of practice you thought you wanted to pursue is not for you, what led you to this conclusion?
